OUTLINES.

The jury in the case of Harry Thaw, whose trial in New York for the murder of Stanford White lasted nearly twelve weeks, yesterday reported to the court that they could not agree and a mistrial was ordered; the jury stood seven for murder in the first degree and five for acquittal on the ground of insanity; Thaw's lawyers will confer today as to their next step, which will probably be on application for bail, which will be strenuously opposed by District Attorney Jerome.——At a conference in Lynchburg, Va., yesterday, between railroad representatives and those of different churches, it was agreed to discontinue Sunday excursion rates.——The Clyde Line steamship Arapahoe was towed into Norfolk yesterday in a disabled condition, having broken her crankshaft while off the Delaware coast, the supposition being that her propeller struck a submerged wreck.——At Washington yesterday a monument was unveiled in Arlington Cemetery to the memory of the Rough Riders, a cavalry regiment commanded in the Spanish-American war by Col. Roosevelt, now President of the United States; the President was the orator and the widow of one of his officers who was killed, unveiled the shaft; it contains the names of 100 of the regiment's dead.——At the second day of the re-dedication of the Carnegie Institute at Pittsburg yesterday, W. T. Stead, editor of the Review of Reviews, London, created great enthusiasm by proposing to raise $100,000 for a pilgrimage to The Hague Peace Conference; the cause of peace created a generous impulse on the large audience and money rained on the stage; the ceremonies closed last night with a banquet to Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie.——It is announced that the war between Honduras and Nicaragua is over.——A court at Chicago yesterday decided that it is against public policy to pay insurance on the life of a person executed for murder.——New York markets: Money on call, easy, 1 3-4 to 2 1-2 per cent., ruling rate, 2, offered at 2 1-2; spot cotton quiet, 11 cents; flour firm, with a quiet trade; wheat strong; No. 2 red, 84 1-8 elevator; corn firm, No. 2, 57 1-2 elevator; oats firm, mixed 47; turpentine quiet, 72 to 72 1-2; rosin steady, strained common to good, 4.70 to 4.75.

"Will it be Roosevelt?" inquires the Winston-Salem Republican. It already is.

Roosevelt wiggles and wobbles. He always will make a trail like a molly-coddle till he apologizes to Parker.

A lecturer says: "Young men, launch out into something." As one of the boys, we prefer to land something.

Brownsville Riot Foraker waded right out where Roosevelt can read the riot act to him. In his Canton speech he made a noise like a man who's ready to take his medicine.

"Have we martyrs in our day?" asks a Boston preacher. Sure, Mike. Look at the way Foraker pulled down his sweater and bared his neck for the axe.

President Roosevelt ought to duck his head for getting scared over that $5,000,000 pot to encompass his defeat. It cost more than that to put Bryan on the toboggan and he is climbing back to take chances for another slide.

It's no funeral of ours, and moreover we may or may not care whether Senator Foraker gets whipped out of his boots in Ohio, but the manner in which he takes his position within the zone of the whirling of the big stick is in striking contrast with the crawlers, the fawners, the bootlicks and the lickspittles.

In justice to the gentle sex, attention should be called to the fact that Surgeon General Wyman and other yellow fever experts have discovered that it is not the stegomyia fasciata that is the fever purveyor but the steogmyia calopus. He is the same mosquito but the mistake was in mistaking the feminine insect for him.

The Raleigh Caucasian (Rep.) throws out this bait: "Five dollars reward for the name of a Democratic politician in North Carolina who does not want an office." Too much like working, to go around hunting for either a Democratic or a Republican "politician" who is in politics for his health.

A violin teacher in the Washington College of Musac has been dismissed for kissing "one of the prettiest and most talented young ladies in Washington society," a pupil of his. When arraigned before the indignant principal he "fessed right up" to his "crime," declined to repent, and gave the principal to understand that his recollection o fthe kiss was such that he would repeat the offense if faced by the same irresistible temptation. That's what we call "'er man."

TUG MARION IS SOLD

Library of Congress

FOR DELIVERY AT ONCE

Steamer Will Be Replaced By Ocean Going Tug With All Equipment for Wrecking Purposes—Expected in Three Weeks.

The steam tug Marion, of the Diamond Steamboat and Wrecking Company, has been sold by the owners, Capt. Edgar D. Williams and Capt. Jas. S. Williams, to the Home Dredging Company, of Mobile, Ala., and she will be delivered to the new purchasers next week. The Marion is sold so that she may be replaced by a larger and more powerful tug, with all equipment to meet the increasing demands of the wrecking company, definite announcement as to which will be made later.

The sale of the Marion to the Home Dredging Company, of Mobile, was consummated yesterday through Capt. Pine, who has been in the city several days looking over the steamer and negotiating with Capt. Williams and son with reference to the transfer of the property. The purchase price is not given out for publication, though the amount is said to have been quite satisfactory. The Marion will probably leave for her new port on Sunday in charge of Capt. Pine and Engineer Ed. Pearsall, formerly of Wilmington, but now of Mobile. Capt. Edgar Williams will personally accompany the new owners as far as Savannah, Ga.

The new tug for the Diamond Steamboat and Wrecking Company is expected here in about three weeks. It is known that the Messrs. Williams are negotiating for a steamer to replace the Marion, but at present they are giving out nothing. The tug will be much larger and more powerful than the Marion and will be fully equipped with all equipment for wrecking and going to sea.

Capt. Williams, in speaking of the sale of the Marion yesterday could not restrain a tear drop in parting with what he chooses to affectionately call "an old friend." The attachment of a master for his craft is not easily understood by the laity, but it is very strong. Capt. Williams has been in personal charge of the Marion for something over ten years, the tug having been purchased in Baltimore and brought here prior to 1898. She was built in Baltimore in 1879, but has been taken exceptionally good care of, and has had many improvements added from time to time. She was formerly the steamer Canton and is iron hull, 78 feet long, 17.4 feet width, and 8.1 feet depth of hold.

AFTERMATH OF PRESBYTERY.

Delightfully Entertained by James Sprunt Institute Students.

Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., and Mr. P. Pearsall returned yesterday morning from Kenansville, where they remained over from Wilmington Presbytery to attend a banquet given by the faculty and students at James Sprunt Institute Thursday night in honor of the members of Presbytery just adjourned. The banquet was held in the large dining hall of the institute, which had been attractively decorated with National colors for the occasion. J. O. Carr, Esq., of the Board of Trustees of the institute, presided, and Rev. Dr. McClure, of Wilmington, was toastmaster. There were a number of very happy toasts and an especially delightful feature was a selection by Miss Wright, teacher of elocution and expression in the school. So favorably was he impressed with this branch of the instruction that Rev. W. P. M. Currie, of Wallace, offered a gold medal for the pupil in this department receiving the highest distinction at commencement.

At the closing exercises of the 165th anniversary celebration of Grove Presbyterian Church Thursday afternoon an interesting feature was the reading of an account of the life of the lamented Dr. James M. Sprunt, founder of the school, by one of his former pupils, Henry Farrior, Esq. Dr. McClure closed the exercises with prayer. Dr. Sprunt was 46 years pastor of the church and his name is revered all over North Carolina. The congregation had only two pastors, Rev. Mr. Standford and Dr. Sprunt, covering a period of one hundred years or nearly so. On the day Mr. Sprunt was ordained as pastor of the church it was recalled at the anniversary Thursday that it snowed and the depth was fifteen inches. This was on the 15th day of April, about 1859.

FIFTH DAY OF ITS HEARING

Smith Land Suit Enters Upon Sixth Day of Its Trial in the Superior Court—Argument of Counsel. Non-Suits.

The Smith land suit still occupies the Superior Court and the end of the fifth day of its progress, or rather lack of progress, ended yesterday afternoon a few minutes before 6 o'clock with Hon. John D. Bellamy, for the plaintiff, making the closing argument to the jury. He will complete his address this morning upon the convening of court at 9:30 o'clock, and then will come the charge of Judge Long. It is expected that the issues will be submitted before noon and an agreement may or may not be reached before tonight or tomorrow morning. The jury is evidently very weary. While members of the same are not kept together over night, as would be the case in a criminal action of great importance, the court sessions are long and they have been compelled to listen to a mass of detail and collateral evidence, which is admitted by the court and the attorneys to have no direct bearing upon the issues, but which has to be brought out in an effort to get at that which is material.

The trial was resumed yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock, with further evidence both for the plaintiff and for the defendants. Messrs. Worth and E. K. Bryan were the principal witnesses for the plaintiff, Mr. Bryan being of counsel for that side. Iredell Meares, Esq., was also introduced to testify as to his recollection of the relation between the late DuBrutz Cutlar and the lae Col. Moore as attorney and client, respectively. The defence introduced the deposition of Mrs. Leonora Boudinot, of Washington, D. C., and recalled Messrs. Roger Moore and F. R. King as to certain collateral evidence that it was desired to be brought out.

Argument by counsel was begun before the dinner recess ex-Judge E. K. Bryan, opening for the plaintiff in a very clear presentation of the contentions of his side of the case. Mr. Bellamy, for the defendants, was next heard in a telling address, giving his view of the evidence and law involved. A recess was then taken for dinner.

Judge Long had limited speeches of attorneys to two hours and these were made with the idea in view of leaving the closing speakers as much time as possible. Herbert McClammy, Esq., next addressed the jury for the defence in a strong speech and Mr. Rountree was heard in an exceptionally able argument in the same behalf. As stated Mr. Bellamy, for the plaintiff, was concluding when a recess was taken yesterday afternoon.

The only other cases disposed of yesterday were W. W. Putnam & Co., against S. A. Schloss in which there was non-suit. The same entry was made in the case of L. J. G. Morel, against the Seaboard Air Line, in which the plaintiff was suing for the loss of a trunk. A compromise was reached by which the company paid the cost of the lost property.

FAYETTEVILLE MURDERER.

The Fayetteville Observer of yesterday afternoon, has the following of interest in Wilmington:

"There were very impressive services in the Cumberland county jail yesterday afternoon, when five colored Episcopal ministers visited Tom Walker, the condemned murderer, who lies on a cot in the hospital ward, and administered holy communion to him. The ministers were Revs. Avant, Archdeacon of New Bern; Perry, of Wilson; King, of Raleigh; Wood, of Washington, and Southern, of St. Joseph's Church, Fayetteville.

"Arch-deacon Avant read the service, in a most impressive manner, Tom Walker joining in the responses, as he also did in the singing. Before the administration of the sacrament, the condemned man expressed his great sorrow for what he had done and his full penitence.

"Though he is to die on Monday, Walker seems delightful at the rapid healing of the wound in his head, which he inflicted in such a dramatic manner, while his trial was in progress. Pointing to his head yesterday, and with an expression of intense delight, he said: 'There is only a little place on top now, it will soon be healed up entirely.'"

"In the course of a sermon at St. Joseph's Church last night, Arch-deacon Avan referred to the Walker case and said: 'There cannot have been the proper uplifting of Christ in this community for if there had, Tom Walker, instead of lying in a cell condemned to death, would now be a member of this choir, charming us with his beautiful tenor voice."

As to Strawberry Trains.

In its article yesterday with reference to the schedule of the strawberry trains, the Star was perhaps not definite enough as to the concessions granted to the Executive Committee of the Truckers' Association. Train No. 218 will take all cars loaded with 300 crates and 259 crates from one consignor to one consignee to all districts. Train 18 will take cars of 250 crates whether loaded at one station or three from one consignor to one consignee.

ON TO RICHMOND!

Cape Fear Camp Wants to Send Big Delegation to Annual Reunion.

MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT

Annual Election of Officers and Other Business Transacted—General Order as to Restoration of Crosses of Honor.

Cape Fear Camp No. 254, United Confederate Veterans, held a most enthusiastic meeting last night at the Wilmington Light Infantry Armory. It was both the regular monthly meeting and the annual meeting of the command for the election of officers. Still further interest was added from the fact that at the same session the Camp considered plans for sending a large delegation to the annual re-union in Richmond in May. These with other matters served to bring out a large attendance and the enthusiasm of the old soldiers in anticipation of the Richmond gathering knew no bounds.

Commander Metts presided at the meeting and Capt. R. W. Price, the adjutant, kept a record of the proceedings. After the routine business of the Camp had been disposed, including the election to membership of Comrade Lewis Taylor, the annual election of officers was gone immediately into with the following result:

Commander—Gen. James I. Metts.
First Lieut. Commander—R. F. Hamme.
Second Lieut. Commander—T. D. Meares.
Adjutant—Capt. R. W. Price.
Treasurer—Capt. W. P. Oldham.
Chaplain—Rev. Jas. Carmichael, D. D.
Surgeon—Dr. W. D. McMillan.
Sergeant Major—A. G. Hankins.
Color Bearer—T. P. Sykes.

General Order No. 61 from Gen. W. E. Mickle, chief of staff, calling attention to the fact that the Daughters of the Confederacy had made arrangements to issue duplicate Crosses of Honor to veterans who have lost theirs, and that application should be made to the nearest Chapter of the U. D. C., was read and received by the veterans with pleasure.

The adjutant, Capt. Price, reported that he had recived a railroad rate of $5.25 to Richmond for the annual reunion, good to return from Norfolk, giving all an opportunity of visiting the Exposition at Jamestown. A steamer will be put on the James river to take veterans to Jamestown from Richmond for $1, so the rate to Richmond, thence to Norfolk and back to Wilmington will be only $6.25 with a liberal allowance of dates for returning at any time.

Richmond extends a cordial welcome not only to organized camps, but to all ex-Confederate soldiers to attend the reunion, which will be held from May 30 to June 3, and those who are not financially able to pay for their own entertainment will be entertained by the Virginia comrades free of charge.

Wilmington hopes to send a delegation of from 40 to 50 of the members of Cape Fear Camp to the Capital of the Confederacy in uniform. Twenty-one have already given their names to the adjutant and signified their purpose of attending. Others are requested to hand in their names as soon as possible. The Wilmington veterans want to go in a body and already a movement is on foot to organize the delegation and uniform them to a man as a "Tar Heel" contingent. Many of the veterans are able to purchase their own uniforms, but a great many, by reason of age and infirmity, are not. It is proposed to raise for these a fund with which to buy uniforms, and one donation of $10 has already been received. A committee, composed of Capt. W. P. Oldham and Capt. R. M. McIntyre was appointed last night to have this matter in charge, and they will be glad to receive any donations that may be made toward this fund.

Operator Killed Tramp.

The Wilson Times of yesterday afternoon has the following: "Operator Pearson, at Contentnea Creek, last night shot and killed a tramp who was put off one of the late trains. The operator was alone in his office when the tramp asked to be allowed to spend the night. He was informed the request could not be granted, as it was against the rules. This infuriated the tramp, who advanced upon the operator with a drawn knife, Mr. Pearson pulled his gun, shooting and killing him. The creek is three miles from Wilson and this is only hearsay, details at one o'clock being hard to secure."

Exclusively for the Whites.

So large has been the advanced sale of "The Clansman," which will be seen at the Academy tonight, that the management has decided to reserve the entire third gallery for whites exclusively. Admission to the gallery will be 50 cents while the general admission will be 75 cents. The company will arrive in the city this morning in plenty of time to have everything in readiness for the matinee this afternoon.

FIRST SHOOT OF SEASON

The first regular trap shoot of the Wilmington Gun Club this season attracted a large number of local sportsmen out to the grounds yesterday afternoon, including not only gunners but spectators. Mr. Guy Ward, who is pleasantly remembered from the Winchester shoot here a few months ago, was present and gave an exhibition which was highly creditable; in fact, even more so than the score would seem to indicate. He broke 129 out of 150 targets, but towards the last of his run he shot from right to left and from left to right, which, of course, reduced his high scores on the first rounds.

The amateurs were led in shooting by R. G. Stokley with 93 out of 100 targets. He broke 25 straights in his first run. Dr. Harlee Bellamy was second high gun of the amateurs with 46 out of 50. The scores in detail were as follows:

	Targets.	Broke.
Geo. Harriss	75	56
R. G. Stokley	100	93
Guy Ward	150	129
J. G. Littig	100	67
Western	100	63
J. H. Dreher	125	85
H. E. Truelove	75	40
Visitor	75	41
Visitor	75	43
Bennett	125	52
Gibbons	50	27
R. H. Bellamy	50	46

The Wilmington Club will send a team to the Interstate shoot in Richmond this month and several local sportsmen are now practicing on the traps with that end in view.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Communication from Mr. Wm. E. Worth in Regard to Question.

The Star has no quarrel with Mr. Wm. E. Worth over his views or those of any other person or persons on the question of a Recorder's Court in Wilmington, and freely gives space to his communication elsewhere in today's Star, in which we think the public will fully agree with us that the paper has made out its case in reference to the statement made some time ago that "a few years ago" the Chamber of Commerce endorsed a Recorder's Court. Mr. Worth is frank enough to admit that as "conserving, supporting and in any way it could further any measure that had for its objective the upbuilding of the city of Wilmington," it did endorse a Recorder's Court, but it happens now that, according to the views of Mr. Worth, it is not a "proper Recorder's Court."

On this point The Star has no desire to take issue with Mr. Worth, but it may be stated in passing that Mr. Worth fails to take into account in his statement that the "taxpayers will vote to pay $3,500 or $4,000 simply for the privilege of doing so without benefit," the fact that at least a goodly porion of this expense will be paid by the court itself in the way of fines and costs accruing from the daily sittings of the Recorder. He also fails to take into account the great saving that would resul to the county in jail fees and the like by the court's taking final jurisdiction in cases below the grade of a felony. For instance, ten of eighteen prisoners shown to have been in jail for some length of time before the late term of Superior Court, charged with misdemeanors could have been tried and sent on the roads long before the criminal term of Superior Court convened. It is safe to say that a majority of these ten submitted when their cases did finally come up, and that they would have been glad of an opportunity of going to the roads and serving their terms out, even before the court met.

Those intimate with the financial workings of the county and city, with a single exception on the Board of Aldermen, have given their unqualified support to the measure solely for economic reasons. Misdemeanors below the grade of felony embrace a large number of the offences committed in New Hanover over which the magistrates have no jurisdiction and prompt hearing of all appeals and cases bound over by magistrates to the Recorder's Court would result in a big saving of jail fees and higher court fees.

Justice Bornemann, the Mediator.

Justice Bornemann acted the part of Solomon in an interesting case yesterday morning. A colored couple, who live in the northern part of town, separated some time ago, the husband taking their only child and putting it under the care of another woman, claiming that its mother was not a fit guardian for it. So yesterday morning the trio came before Justice Bornemann and asked him to decide which should have the custody of the child, its mother or the other woman. The justice, after hearing the evidence on both sides, the child's mother having proved rather a bad character, rendered his decision to the effect that the child should remain in the care of its present guardian. To this the mother demurred, but when the justice threatened sending her to the Superior Court to have her character passed upon, she "skidooed" in fine style.

DOINGS IN RALEIGH

Wilmington Delegates in Attendance Upon Royal Arcanum Sessions This Week.

OTHER STATE CAPITAL NEW

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., April 12.—Mr. James Hooper was the last of the Wilmington delegation to the Grand Council, Royal Arcanum, in session here the past three days to leave for his home, having gone on the 12:45 P. M. Southern train. He and Mr. H. E. Bonitz represented Carolina lodge of Wilmington, and Dr. S. Mendelson represented the Cornelius Harnett lodge. The Grand Council advanced Mr. Bonitz to the office of vice grand regent.

Announcement is made that Mr. R. D. W. Connor will be the orator for the tenth of May memorial observance in Raleigh, under the auspices of the Confederate Ladies' Memorial Association. There will be the usual complimentary luncheon for the old veterans.

At a session of the board of directors of the Masonic Orphanage at Oxford today a plan was set on foot for a new department for the institution in the shape of a special building in which to care for small children, including orphans as young as one year. Six years has been the minimum heretofore.

A Woodmen of the World camp was organized here last night with fifty-two members, the institution being by District Deputy M. T. Ray, assised by State Manager E. B. Lewis. James I. Johnson, mayor of Raleigh, was made commander. The order the country over has had phenomenal growth, having grown to 450,000 members since its organization in 1890. Last year there were 104,000 applications for membership.

Major B. F. Dixon, State Auditor, returned this morning from Columbus county, having delivered educational addresses at Chadbourn and Evergreen yesterday. He spent Tuesday and Wednesday with the Southern Education Board in annual convention at Southern Pines.

President W. L. Poteat, of Wake Forest College, will deliver an address here next Monday night under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, it being one of a series of free addresses by prominent citizens of the State that the Chamber of Commerce has inaugurated.

State Entomologist Franklin Sherman is making the preliminary arrangement for a convention of fruit growers to be held at Mt. Airy April 18th for the purpose of studying methods of growing and handling the apple crop. Several apple growers will be present from the border counties of Virginia and participate in the discussions along with representatives of the State Department of Agriculture.

THE ST. HELENA COLONY.

Marriage in Italian Settlement—Fine Band Organized, Etc.

Rev. Father Hannon, of St. Thomas' Catholic Church, this city, has just returned from St. Helena, the home of the Italian colonists near Burgaw, in Pender county. He went up to St. Helena to unite in marriage Rossi Flamindo and Isabella Carrolo, two of the young settlers there. This is the second marriage lately and it shows that this people are settled in the East and will make good citizens. A new church is contemplated at an early date to be erected in St. Helena. A very fine band has already been formed as the people, like all of their Nationality, are of a musical inclination. On the arrival of the priest for the solemnization of the marriage he was met by the entire settlement, led by the band, and he then performed the marriage rite in their own tongue, supplemented by the prayers in Latin. The picturesque dances of Italy were the features of the day after dinner, enlivened by the old Tuscan songs.

SPIT BULLET OUT.

Injured Husband Fired Upon By Domestic Interloper.

Hearing a knock on his door early last night about 8 o'clock, Fred Smith, colored, who lives at Fifth and Red Cross streets, came out and was confronted by Henry Armstrong, also colored, with whom he had previously quarreled on account of Armstrong's intimacy with his wife. Armstrong evidently expected the "lady of the house" to meet him as Smith was supposed to be at his work, and when the man presented himself at the door the interloper fired at Smith, the injured husband. The ball entered Smith's mouth and he spit it out on the piazza, suffering only a slight cut of the lip. Armstrong was not prepared for such a man, and when the leaden pellet rattled on the piazza floor, he took to his heels and has not been heard of since. Smith went to a physician, but the cut in his lip was of no consequence. The police are looking for Armstrong.

LABOR AFTER ROOSEVELT.

President Roosevelt makes so many remarks that it is natural for him to put his foot in it now and then. He now has the federated labor organizations after him about a reference he is reported to have made recently concrning Moyer and Haywood, officials of the Western Federation of Miners, charged with complicity in the assassination of Governor Steunenberg, of Idaho, about the time of the strike of miners out West a few years ago. President Roosevelt is reported to have expressed the opinion that Moyer and Haywood are "bad citizens," although it is claimed by the miners' organization that a conspiracy was hatched up against the two men to get them in trouble.

The Chicago Federation of Labor on Thursday sent President Roosevelt the following telegram:

"The newspapers report you as saying that Moyer and Haywood are undesirable citizens. In view of the fact that these men will soon be put on trial for their lives, we believe their chances for a 'square deal' will be lessened if the reported statement is true. We, therefore, ask you for correct information on this subject, believing a man is innocent until he is proven guilty."

Evidently the labor organization wants to give President Roosevelt the benefit of the doubt. At any rate it gives him the opporunity to go on record with his thoughtless remark, or else make an explanation about it, before they condemn him.

AFTER BOTH POLES.

While Commander Peary by ship and Walter Wellman by airship will make another effort to discover the North Pole, an Argentine millionaire is organizing an expedition to search for the South Pole. A dispatch from New York, April 10th, to the Washington Post, thus mentions the plans of the proposed South American expedition:

"Convinced that the cause of science will be advanced further by the discovery of the South Pole and the exploration of the Antarctic seas than by the discovery of the North Pole, Don Phillipe Bevrier, a wealthy retired cattle exporter of the Argentine Republic, proposes to start an expedition from Buenos Ayres this Fall. Don Bevrier, who has just arrived in this city, will shortly call upon Commander Peary to get suggestions from the veteran Arctic explorer. He visited Science Hall at Columbia University today and obtained considerable information relating to the Antarctic Ocean.

"Most of the hope of the South American is based on the fact that besides the warm support of the Argentine government, he has a fund of $1,000,000 with which to fit out and maintain his expedition. He does not expect to accomplish his purpose in one year, but thinks that by the opening of 1909 he will be able to plant the banner of the Argentine Republic at the South Pole.

"Don Bevrier will rely neither on balloons, automobiles, nor steamers, but on well-trained ,specially bred Eskimo dogs, of which he has 400."

LA FOLLETTE A THIRD TERMER.

Hon. William J. Bryan declares that the Republicans should nominate Senator R. M. LaFollette, of Wisconsin, for President if they want a good man. Col. Bryan will, doubtless, be the Democratic nominee, judging from the trend of things now, and if he is beaten he wants to be laid out by a man of the Wisconsin Senator's stripe.

La Follette, however, will never smell the Republican nomination, and he will have to vote for Taft or Bryan. Watch that prediction. La Follette is doing a good deal of talking and speaking in the West at this time and in an interview at elena, Mont., on Wednesday declared that if the railroads thought to defeat the policies of President Roosevelt by the nomination of some one antagonistic thereto they were going at it the wrong way. Said the Senator:

"They will force President Roosevelt to be a candidate, if I am correctly informed as to the actions of Harriman and his associates. Abusing the President will result in Theodore Roosevelt's renouncing his declaration not to run again and making the race by way of vindication. President Roosevelt is entitled to another term and the people are entitled to Roosevelt. We must have Roosevelt again."

POPULAR MAY VISITOR.

The Delineator for May is out, and the announcement is all that is necessary to cheer up "the Delineator family." That family is a large and ever delighted one, and the May number of this delightful fashion and home magazine for women is sufficient to add another thirty days of the world's joys to the practical benefits, edification and genuine enjoyment of the home circle. The Parisian and New York fashions for the month are attractively exploited, and the illustrations are artistic and charming. Added to it all is the art and home science features and the literary accompaniment that goes to make the Delineator such a popular monthly visitor. The magazine is sent to subscribers for $1 a year, and sells at 15 cents per copy. Address the Butterick Publishing Co. (Ltd.), Spring and Macdougal Streets, New York.

AWAY OFF.

The notoriety of John Temple Graves was sufficient without creating all that disturbance at the Bryan banquet at Chattanooga by making a speech urging William J. Bryan to place Theodore Roosevelt in nomination in the National Democratic convention. Roosevelt may do some things Democrats can approve but he is not any more in touch with the fundamental principles of Democracy than Explorer Peary is with the North Pole. Let's get down to Democratic business.

—A new and serious charge is brought against the increased cost of living by Bishop Lawrence, of the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts. It is that much of the immorality of the day is caused by the difficulty of meeting living expenses. "Prosperity," therefore, is not without its dark side.—Savannah News.

—With Harriman and a few other individuals of his stripe sent to the penitentiary for their crimes, and the principle firmly established making individuals responsible to the criminal law for their illegal and wrongful acts, though done in the name of the corporation, there would probably be little need to pile fines on innocent stockholders in a vain effort to control the conduct of lawless corsairs, of whom the stockholders, as well as the public are the victims.—Richmond Journal.

—The voice of a man heard singing at his own funeral was the extraordinary thing made possible by science as illustrated at Muskegon, Mich., the other day. A singer of some local note was being consigned to the grave. At the conclusion of the services a phonograph containing the record of the dead man's own voice singing his favorite hymn was placed upon the coffin and set going. The effect is said to have been weird and to have startled his friends, as may well be imagined. It was literally the voice of the dead singing his own requiem.—Savannah News.

Committed Suicide in the Woods.

Morganton, April 11.—Miss Jessie Ball of Detroit, Mich., who has been teaching at the deaf and dumb school here for the past three years committed suicide in some woods adjacent to the school grounds yesterday afternoon, by drinking carbolic acid. The body was found today. Miss Bell had been in bad health for some time verging in melancholia and told a friend at the school that drowning had a fascination for her. She was last seen about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, leaving the school grounds by herself. When she did not return to the school last night some alarm was felt, but it was thought she had spent the night with friends in town, but when it was learned this morning that none of her friends had seen her the alarm became general and searching parties wer soon made up in town. The river and woods for miles around the deaf and dumb school were searched with the result as above stated. There was a small bottle labeled "carbolic acid" lying empty beside the body. Miss Bell was one of the most popular teachers at the school. Her family in Detroit has been notified, and the body will be taken there.

When all other remedies utterly fail, you may still win in the battle against lung and throat troubles with New Discovery, the REAL cure. Guaranteed by R. R. CONTRACT LET FOR COLLEGE

(Special Correspondence Star.)

Maxton, N. C., April 12.—The trustees of the Carolina Methodist College for young women have been in session at Maxton for several days hearing the reports of certain subcommittees, who were to bring up the delegated work of this new institution.

It is learned authoritatively by your correspondent that the committee on plans and specifications has contracted with Mr. John C. Stout, of Rocky Mount, for plans for two buildings. The central building is to be known as the administration building, and is to contain ten lecture rooms and seven music rooms, two society halls, cloak rooms, physical culture department, chemical laboratory and equipment, and gymnasium, and an auditorium modern in construction and equipment to accommodate a thousand. This building is to be of Corinthian architecture, to be built with the base of stone and faced with pressed brick. The basement is to contain a modern heating plant, and a gymnasium together with lockers, lunch and bicycle rooms, etc. It is to be fitted out with every modern convenience and is to be second to no college building in the State. It is planned that there shall be two dormitories, each to accommodate two hundred and fifty girls, each containing a dining and culinary department, and in architecture to correspond with the administration building. It is to be provided with electric lighting, and a complete water system. Only one of these buildings, however, is to be erected at once; the administration building and one dormitory to be built simultaneously, the third building to be built later.

The approximate cost of these buildings is to be $100,000. Your correspondent learns that already the gratifying sum of $25,000 has been procured and an agent is in the field procuring at the rate of not less than $5,000 a month for this institution.

The location of the school is in what is known as the Patterson Park, and is a square plot of land on a high bluff just southwest of the town and within five blocks of the Union Railroad depot. It is well drained and contains fifteen acres, the southern side of which has been graciously adorned by nature with a magnificent growth of water oaks, pine, dogwood, and other natives of our North Carolina forests. It is undoubtedly the most magnificent spot for a college to be found in Robeson county. It is expected that ground will be broken for the administration building within the next three weeks, and the committee is already contracting for the output of a large brick concern, and the material will be placed on the ground inside of the next six weeks.

This school undoubtedly has a bright future, as the Methodist denomination, which has a large constituency throughout Eastern North Carolina, has no institution for the education of its girls from Greensboro to the sea, nor from Louisburg on the north through to Columbia, S. C., covering, perhaps, the richest and most fertile agricultural section in the Carolinas, and stocked with the sturdiest blood of the South.

The people of Maxton are, regardless of church affiliations, justly proud of this proposed institution, and are liberally subscribing to its erection.

MOVEMENT FOR COTTON.

President Moore and Hon. E. D. Smith to Speak at Maxton.

Maxton, N. C., April 11, 1907.

Dear Sirs—The Honorable E. D. Smith and C. C. Moore will be in Fayetteville on Saturday, April 20th. Smith is admitted to be one of the best speakers in the South and on matters pertaining to cotton and the Cotton Association work I doubt that he has an equal.

I believe it would pay every man in North Carolina, regardless of his business profession, to hear this discussion. As this is his last appointment in this State I want to urge all who have not heard him to take advantage of this opportunity. Whether you are a grower or not you can't live in Southeastern North Carolina and not be interested in the success of the cotton industry.

I hope, therefore, to meet the merchants, bankers, manufacturers, lawyers, doctors, preachers and professors as well as farmers of this section at Fayetteville on the above date.

Yours very truly,
A. J. McKINNON,
Chairman State Executive Committee.

A fire which started in a new building in the centre of the town of Luther, La., yesterday morning, burned over eight blocks, destroying a number of stores and residences. The loss will amount to about $60,000.

After poisoning her two-year-old baby, Mrs. Clarissa Gold, aged 22 years, of Memphis, Tenn., yesterday attempted suicide by swallowing a portion of the same drug. The child is dead and the woman's condition is serious. Despondency over domestic affairs is believed to have prompted the act.

REVIEW OF BUSINESS FOR WEEK.

Bradstreet's Says Conditions Continue to Be Favorable.

New York, April 12.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Trade and manufacturing conditions are in a high degree favorable, despite the lu'l in demand usual with this stage of the season. Some odd cross currents are visible because of the scarcity of stocks in so many lines, necessitating buying in otehr markets to eke out supplies sold ahead some time ago. In retail trade, cold weather and bad country roads are a bar to fullest activity, but the volume of business doing, as a whole, exceeds the corresponding period in other years. A favorable feature deserving attention is the renewal of buying of Bessemer pig iron on a very large scale for second half delivery at prices representing a compromise between buyers and sellers. The situation of money is toward further ease; shipments of currency to the interior are heavy, but collections are still backward. The labor situation despite local disturbances, is very good, and wages in many lines have advanced. Wool is quiet East and West.

Something like a lull in demand for cotton goods is being taken advantage of by manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers to catch up with backward deliveries. Cotton yarns are active, though irregular in price. Narrow print-cloths are higher. Export cottons are quiet. Silk goods are very active and raw silk is strong. In dress goods, business is satisfactory though some concessions are claimed to be obtainable for late Fall delivery. Millinery is active and knit goods manufacturers have all the business they can handle for late Fall and Winter.

Delegates to Episcopal Council.

St. James' parish of this city has elected the following delegates to the East Carolina Diocesan Council which meets in May at Kinston, N. C., viz.: Messrs. J. V. Grainger, James I. Metts, W. F. Robertson and Col. J. W. Atkinson. The following alternates were also selected: Messrs. S. M. Boatwright, H. C. Prince and J. W. Murchison.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Sales of rosin are reported yesterday by the Wilmington branch of the American Naval Stores Company at $4.17 1-2 per barrel. The receipts during the day were only seven casks.

—The Fayetteville steamers were in port yesterday, the "City of Fayetteville" clearing for the return in the afternoon. The Lyon arrived late and will not return before this morning.

—There were only two cases before the Mayor yesterday. George Williams, for fast driving, was fined $5 and costs and the same was the portion of Dandy Johnson, the hack driver, charged with an assault.

—Fayetteville Observer: "Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, D. D., bishop of the diocese of East Carolina, will officiate and preach in the chapel of St. Philip the Apostle, Campbellton, this (Friday) evening ,at 8 o'clock. We hope that a large congregation will meet him there."

—Southport Herald: "Mr. C. N. Philips, Robt. W. Davis, Esq., and several others of the local order of Jr. O. U. A. M. went to Shallotte yesterday and at night instituted an order there. Mr. Robt. W. Davis delivered an eloquent address after the lodge had been fully instituted and the members initiated. The new lodge will doubtless be a flourishing one."

—Next Sunday and every Sunday thereafter until further notice the steamer Wilmington will leave for Carolina Beach at 9:30 A. M. and will leave the beach at 4:30 P. M. Oysters in any style and lunch may be had at Kure's. Shooting traps, oyster roaster, bowling alleys and pool room may be rented for the season by applying to Capt. J. W. Harper or Hans A. Kure.

—Southport Herald: "Mr. John C. Mintz, engineer for the Wilmington, Brunswick & Southern Railroad left for Waccamaw township yesterday morning. Mr. Mintz will survey in a branch road from the main line at or near Shallotte to Reeves Ferry in Waccamaw township. This line will go through some of the finest trucking land in the county, if not in the State, and would open up that part of the county wonderfully."

—Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Raynor, of Jacksonville, N. C., have issued attractive invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mollie Raynor, to Mr. Usher David Koonce, of this city, on Wednesday evening, April 17th, at 8:30 o'clock at the Baptist Church, Jacksonville, N. C. Mr. Koonce is quite pleasantly known in Wilmington and has many friends who will congratulate him upon his appraoching good fortune.

—The Christian Church Tabernacle revival is still moving along in a good healthy way. The attendance, owing to the cold weather, is not as large as it might be, but the attention and the interest is good. Tomorrow morning it is especially desired that each one in the city who has formerly been a member of the Disciples Church and who will now unite with the congregation and be present. The public in general is invited to any and all of the services. Come on time. The tabernacle is located on Fourth, between Princess and Chestnut streets.

FROM MR. W. E. WORTH.

Gives History of Recorder's Court Agitation and Objections.

(Communicated.)

Wilmington, N. C., April 11th.

Mr. Editor—Inasmuch as I am an open opponent of the bill to establish a Recorder's Court that will be voted on at the coming election, I will thank you to give space to the following with reference to your article in the Star on April 5th, concerning the action of the Chamber of Commerce on the question of establishing a Recorder's Court:

When I was president of the Chember of Commerce its functions were purely of a public nature. It was organized for, and had in view, the conserving, supporting and in any way it could, the furthering of any measure that had for its objective, the upbuilding of the city of Wilmington. It was not a purely business organization as it now is. It was not only active in trying to get a proper Recorder's Court established, but had taken a very active part in a public movement the result of which we are all now enjoying.

As president of that organization I was heartily in favor of the establishing of a Recorder's Court and am now, if such a court can be established that will be a Recorder's Court. This bill which we will vote on at the next election is one that should be read and studied by every taxpayer in the city and county. If enacted into law, we as taxpayers will simply pay $3,000 or $4,000 for the privilege of doing so, without benefit. It does not abolish the Mayor's Court, or in any way lessen the number of Magistrate's Courts and its increased power is simply jurisdiction of all other criminal offenses below the grade of felony.

So the practical effect of the bill is to establish a court to try persons charged with carrying or using a deadly weapon, at a cost of several thousand dollars to the taxpayers. Do you want to help pay for this luxury? A Recorder's Court that would take the place of the Mayor's and Magistrates' Courts, with jurisdiction of all criminal offenses below the grade of felony, and jurisdiction to the extent of $500 in civil cases, would be of practical benefit to the taxpayer, relieve the mayoralty of one of its disagreeable features and add dignity to the lowest court.

I challenge any advocate of the present bill to show any really good feature in it.

WM. E. WORTH.

Registration Opens Today.

The registrars for the Recorder's Court election to be held on May 7th will be at their respective polling places in the county all day today for the purpose of registering any voters who may apply. It is an entirely new registration and all who desire to vote must register anew.

The Theatre

The Southern tour of "The Clansman" in 1905-1906 was remarkable in the annals of theatricals. It set a new mark for the stage successes, while it showed other managers the possibilities of an American play dealing with subjects of profound interest to every American. It occpied as much space in the public prints as the rate bill; it was the engrossing theme of conversation everywhere. Reports received by Manager H. Drennan from all over the South indicate that "The Clansman" will enjoy even a greater vogue (if that be possible) this season. Those who witnessed it before are anxious to study and analyze it now, and those who were disappointed on the previous visit will leave no stone unturned to see it this time. "The Clansman," in its enlarged and improved form will be at the Academy matinee and night today.

All Next Week.—The ever popular Peruchi-Gypzene Company will begin a week's engagement at the Academy of Music Monday with all new plays and specialties. Mr. Peruchi has strengthened his company since his recent engagement here, and the cast is said to be exceptionally clever and well balanced. Peruchi and Gypzene will well sustain their reputation as splendid entertainers. The play selected for the opening bill is "Ivan, the Self," a beautiful melodrama in four acts, with a host of inter-act specialties, including the latest Parisian moving pictures. Popular prices prevail and seats for Monday night are now on sale at Plummer's.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Prices Again Moved Downward Yesterday—Crop Prospects Factor.

New York April 12.—Prices moved irregularly downwards in the stock market today on narrowing transactions of a professional kind. The declines were said to have induced some liquidation of long stocks, but importance was assigned to the activity of the bears in the market. The news of the day was not of great apparent effect, outside of a few special stocks. In the coppers there was weakness, both here and abroad.

This was in connection with the fall in prices in copper warrants in the London market, and the marking down of the price of copper on the New York Metal Exchange. The denials by the agents of the great copper producers of the reliability of these quotations as an index of the actual market for copper are given a good deal of discussion, but they do not prevent the stocks of the copper companies from being depressed by the lowering quotations.

Profession of apprehension over the prospects for the crops were a factor in the depression. These were founded on reports from crop experts traveling in the crop regions and the influence was increased by the firm tone perceptible in the wheat market.

The continued decline on money rates both here and abroad seems to have failed to incite any active demand for securities. The failure of the market to respond to this development has much to do with encouraging the bears to make the attacks on the market which have been noticeable for two days past. Preliminary esimates of the week's currency movement with the interior indicate a balance in favor of New York of less than a million dollars.

The market was not under immediate pressure at the closing, but there was no vigorous recovery. Bonds were heavy. Total sales, par value $1,204,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales today 766,200 sahres.

MR. BRYAN ON MR. ROOSEVELT.

Again Declares It Is Not His Duty to Nominate Him.

Roanoke, Va., April 12.—William Jennings Bryan, in an interview today, was asked for an expression on the suggestion made by John Temple Graves, of Atlanta, at a banquet on Wednesday night at Chattanooga, that Bryan nominate Roosevelt for President. Mr. Bryan said:

"I said at the banquet in Chattanooga all that at present I can say. I then said: 'As at present advised I cannot see that it is my duty to nominate Mr. Roosevelt.' In both of my campaigns I stated that I would not be a candidate for a second term if elected, and as I had endeavored to secure a constitutional amendment making a President ineligible for a second term I could not conscientiously urge the re-nomination of Mr. Roosevelt for a second term, even if there were no other reasons."

In speaking of the Harriman-Roosevelt episode, Mr. Bryan today said:

"The President seems unduly excited over the alleged $5,000,000 raised by Wall Street to prevent his re-election. If Wall Street is opposed to any doctrine held by President Roosevelt, it is certainly not a Republican doctrine. When we came up against the corruption fund in 1896 we found no more ardent champion of these special interests than Mr. Roosevelt."

INSURANCE ON MURDERER.

Chicago Court Holds That Its Payment Is Bad Policy.

Chicago, April 12.—The Appellate Court declared today that public policy forbids the recovery of insurance on a person executed for murder. Robert Kilpatrick, who was executed in Pennsylvania for murdering his housekeeper, Elizabeth Bearmore, at Chester, Pa., February 14, 1902, insured his life before committing the murder. Following his execution the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company was asked to make payment on the policy. Suit was subsequently brought in Chicago to recover. The lower court here decided adversely and this decision was today affirmed by the Appellate Court.

THE MADSTONE.

Valuable Because Absorbent—A Clay Pipe Makes a Good One.

Physicians are often asked whether there really is any virtue in what are called madstones. One of them declares that these stones are of value, but that they would be of more value if their limitations were understood.

"There is no particular variety of stone or substance which may be designated exclusively as the madstone," he says. "I have seen many of them, so called, and no two were of exactly the same composition, geologically considered.

"Madstones act on the same principle that a blotting paper does when absorbing ink, and there is nothing that makes a better one than baked pipe-clay. A new clay pipe, procurable for a cent at nearly any store where tobacco is sold, cannot be excelled by any madstone, no matter how great its reputation.

"The action can be clearly demonstrated by placing a common dry red brick in contact with the margin of a puddle of water and noticing what capillary attraction will accomplish. Therefore to be efficient the only necessity is for the stone to be porous and have strong adhesive and absorbent qualities. Nothing mysterious about it.

"I have seen several that appear to be concretions, either vesical, renal or biliary, and were found in the bladder, kidney or liver of some animal—those taken from the deer supposed to be the best.

"When a person is bitten by a reptile or dog supposed to be mad and the porous stone applied to the wound the blotting paper action begins, and the blood, saliva from the mouth of the animal and whatever poison these fluids contain will naturally by capillary attraction be absorbed by and into the substance applied, no matter what name you may give it.

"The saying that if a stone sticks the wound is poisonous and if it does not take hold there is no venom present is untrue. If the stone is clean and dry it will adhere when moisture is within reach till it becomes saturated.

"For instance, a new red brick will absorb one pint of water. After the venom has been taken into the circulation the madstone is worthless, but as the victim is usually filled with whisky or alcohol at the same time the stone is being used the spirits may counteract the effect of the poison.

"I know of a stone which has a wide reputation and makes a good living for the family owning it. They never let it go out of their sight, and when the victim cannot be taken to the stone one member of the family can be hired to take the stone to the victim. In addition to traveling expenses, they charge $5 for the application and $2 extra for each hour that the stone sticks.

"This stone is busy a large part of the time. Not long since the stone held to a man's leg for over 100 hours, yet the man died. His life could have been saved if dependence had not been placed entirely in the stone."—Medical Brief.

A "Touching" Story.

The young lady who had sat for a crayon portrait was not altogether pleased with the result. "It looks like me, of course," she said, inspecting it doubtfully, "and yet I think there are some things about it that ought to be changed."

She suggested that the eyes should have rather more of an upward look, that the right hand should be a little less prominent, that the hair should be made more wavy and that certain changes ought to be made in the drapery.

"That would require a great deal of retouching," said the artist, "and I should have to charge you about $10 additional."

"Oh, dear!" she exclaimed with a pout. "I shall have to give it up. Papa won't stand my 'retouching' him to that extent."

A Case In Point.

Of Sergeant Arabin, who had not a clear method of speech, it is related that he said to one criminal, "Prisoner at the bar, if ever there was a clearer case than this of a man robbing his master, this case is that case." At another time he said, "Prisoner at the bar, you have been found guilty on several indictments, and it is in my power to subject you to transportation for a period very considerably beyond the term of your natural life, but the court in its mercy will not go so far as it lawfully might go, and the sentence is that you be transported for two periods of seven years each."—London Globe.

Something More Recent.

"What was the cause of this rumpus?" asked the judge.

"Well, you see, judge," replied the policeman, "this man here and that woman there are married"—

"Yes, yes, I know. But what other cause?"—Cleveland Press.

Setting Him Right.

"Er—really," began Mr. Chesty, "you have the advantage of me, sir. My memory, perhaps, is at fault, but"—

"No," interrupted Pepprey, "it isn't your memory, but your manners."—Philadelphia Press.

The Old Greek Divorce Law.

A clergyman was railing against divorce. "We ought to have the divorce law that was enforced in ancient Greece," he said. "If that old Greek clause was tacked to every separation, I am persuaded that divorces would fall off 60 to 70 per cent. This law was that when a man got a divorce he could not under any circumstances marry another woman younger than his ex-wife. An innocent law, a brief law, not much to look at, but how many divorce suits would be nipped in the bud if all husbands knew that after the separation they could not marry younger women than the wives they had cast off!"—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Water on the Veldt.

Water is sometimes very scarce and precious on the South African veldt, according to a writer, who says: "In our veldt cottage we had no well, only large tanks, and about August our condition usually became desperate. If you washed your hands you carried the precious fluid out to pour it on some thirsty plant or vegetable; the bath water the same, part of it being first saved to scrub floors. Cabbage and potato water was allowed to cool and then used for the garden or to wash the dogs in first, so that these waters did three duties."

Mr. Leake and family have only been here a short while, but have made many friends here who regret to see them leave. The management of the hotel goes back into the hands of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morgan.

—Kenansville Eastern Carolina News: The truck crops are all damaged very materially by the severe cold spells and the recent frosts. We fail to understand the reports published in some of our exchanges saying that the crop of strawberries will only be cut short 15 per cent. and that some crops are not hurt at all. Every trucker knows that is misleading, and our friends should be more careful.

—Whiteville Echo: The Boardman High School, taught by Prof. Wheatley, of Beaufort, closed last Thursday. The session in many respects was one of the most successful ones ever taught at Boardman and the people are highly pleased with the work of Prof. Wheatley. The professor leaves this week for his home in Beaufort, where he will spend a few days before going to Chapel Hill, where he will complete his course in law which he began some time ago.

—Lumberton Robesonian: The engine for the Virginia and Carolina Southern Railroad, which is being built from Lumberton, will arrive here the early part of next week. It spent Friday night in Fayetteville and left next day for Aberdeen, where it will collect some work cars to bring along with it. The new rails are also en route and will be here next week. The rails are sixty-pound and the engine is forty-five horse power. Work will begin soon in laying the rails and constructing the road.

—High Point, April 11: Dirt actually commenced to fly yesterday on the new railroad—the North Carolina Valley Railroad—to run from High Point to the Seaboard Air Line, presumably at Wadesboro. This is the road promoted by Dr. Dee Allen and for which $75,000 was voted by High Point in December last. The name of the road was then known as the Glen Anna and Pee Dee Railroad. Work has commenced at a point between here and Thomasville where work was left off some time ago. It is the intention of the company to push the work to completion and thus give High Point an outlet to the sea other than over the Southern Railroad.

—Greensboro, April 11: Another negro got fatally shot here last night at a colored pool room near the Southern Railway passenger station. "Running Joe" Morehead, colored, well known in police circles, was shot three times by another negro in the presence of half a dozen others, and none of them can tell who the shooter was. One ball took effect in the right side of the neck and grazed the jugular vein, but did not make a dangerous wound. Another bullet lodged near the breastbone and the wound from this was serious. But the third wound is in the bowels and cost Running Joe is life. The negro died at the hospital, the physicians finding eight perforations in the intestines.

—Rocky Mount Record, April 11: Mr. C. C. Hines, employed by the Coast Line as flagman, was killed at South Rocky Mount yesterday about 11:30 o'clock. He was flagman for the wrecking train, which was getting up a derailed engine and did not notice a engine which came on a track just alongside the track on which the wrecking train was worked, which backed while he had his back turned. He was knocked down and the wheels of the tender passed over his neck an mangled him generally, death being instantaneous. His remains were taken to Goldsboro, his former home, this morning. He was twenty-two years old and had been working here about eight months. He was not married.

—Lumberton Robesonian: The committee on programme for the unveiling of the Confederate monument here May 10th, met at the Court House Monday. Mr. A. W. McLean was made permanent chairman and Mr. Geo. B. McLeod secretary. There was a committee of the Daughters of the Confederacy present and participated in suggestions for the occasion. Mr. A. J.McKinnon was chosen chief marshal for the occasion; Mr. R. D. Caldwell, chairman of committee on dinner; Mr. G. B. Patterson, chairman of the committee on music; Mr. C. B. Townsend, chairman of committee on finance; Mr. A. E. White, chairman of committee on platform. A meeting of the committee will be held Monday to complete the programme. The management for the occasion will do everything in its power to make the event a big success.

THE COTTON MARKET

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, April 12.—The cotton market was a shade more active today and showed continued steadiness with the close steady at a net advance of 4 to 10 points. Sales were estimated at 150,000 bales.

The opening was quiet to unchanged, prices to a decline of one point in response to barely steady English futures, but calling was checked by the big English spot sales at an advance of 4 points, reports from the Commissioner of Agriculture of Georgia stating that considerable replanting would be necessary as a result of the recent cold snap, and reports of a better spot demand from the South. Later cables from Liverpool reported an advance with near months relatively firm, and the market here gradually worked up on covering of shorts on expectations of a bullish visible supply statement tomorrow. The close was within a point of the best prices for the session. The weather map showed rains in the Eastern belt and light frosts at Memphis. The only rain in the Western belt was less than half that point in Texas and there predictions of lower temperatures in the Southwest tomorrow. Southern spot markets were unchanged to 1-8 higher. Exports were not particularly heavy but slightly bulky.

Receipts cotton at the ports today, 14,519 bales, against 20,761 last wek, and 25,219 last year. For the week, 90,000 bales, against 110,127 last week, and 115,676 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 752 bales, against 5,426 last year, and at Houston, 2,849 bales, against 2,046 last year.

IN MEMORY OF ROUGH RIDERS

PRESIDENT ORATOR OF DAY

Monolith Unveiled By Widow of Captain Who Lost His Life In Cuba. It Contains Names of One Hundred Dead.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, April 12.—President Roosevelt made a speech, in which he touched mainly on patriotism and good citizenship, at the dedication today of the monument erected to the memory of the First Cavalry, United States Volunteers—the Rough Riders—of the Spanish-American war, in the National Cemetery ar Arlington. Mrs. A. K. Capron, the widow of Capt. Capron, of the Rough Rider Regiment, who fell at Las Guasimas, pulled the cord holding the American flag that covered the monumetn, Rev. Dr. D. covered the monument, Rev. Dr. D. this city, made the dedication address, and Chaplain H. A. Brown, U. S. A., pronounce the benediction.

Regular troops and part of the National Guard of the District of Columbia participated in the exercises incident to the dedication. They included four troops of the Thirteenth Cavalry, a battalion of field artillery, four companies of the District National Guard and a portion of the District Naval Reserves.

The President, accompanied from the White House by Lieutenant General Young, retired, and Major Frank B. McCoy, the naval aide, were met at Fort Myer by Capt. Preston, of the Thirteenth Cavalry, and escorted to the cemetery gates, where they were joined by the remainder of the military and naval contingent in the march to the monument. A distinguished company assembled on the stand from which the President deliverad his address.

A number of former members of the Rough Riders Regiment are in the city and were invited to seats on the stand.

The monument is the design of Mrs. Capron and stands in a good location in the reservation. It is a monolith, the largest of its kind in Arlington. It is made of Vermont granite, stands fourteen feet high on a base of six by six feet. The memorial bears the names of more than one hundred former members of the regiment who died either in Cuba or after the return of the regiment to the United States. The main decoration is a bronze tablet, bearing the regimental device, the crossed sabers, and a medallion with the names of the three battles in which the organization participated—Las Guasimas, San Juan and Santiago. Beneath the device is the inscription:

"First U. S. Volunteer Cavalry. In memory of the deceased members of the first United States Volunteer Cavalry, Spanish-American war. Erected by members of the Regiment, 1906."

President Roosevelt was the Colonel of the Rough Riders during most of its existence and he spoke today with a personal feeling. He referred to the peculiar gratification of all the members of the regiment in seeing this memorial erected to the memory of their dead comrades and spoke of the funeral service that Chaplain Brown held over those killed in the Guasimas fight. "The first fight that we saw, the fight we served under the afterwards Lieutenant General of the United States Army who is here with us today, General Young. General Young had promised that if the regiment got into the brigade he would see that it got into the first fight and," said the President, turning to General Young, "You kept your word."

The President said the parent reason why our people should look back to the Spanish-American war with satisfaction was that "it marked in very truth the complete reunion of our country."

He said sons of men who had worn the blue and sons of those who had worn the grey fought together and side by side with Young and Fitzhugh Lee; they "stood shoulder to shoulder, knit together by the closest of ties and acknowledged with respect to one another only that generous jealousy each to try to be the first to do all that in him lay for the honor and the interest of the flag that covered the reunited country."

CLYDE STEAMER DISABLED.

Arapahoe's Propeller Believed to Have Struck Submerged Wreck.

New York, April 12.—The Clyde Line steamer Arapahoe, which broke her crankshaft while off the Delaware coast en route from Charleston to New York Tuesday night, arrived at this port today in tow of a tug. The Arapahoe's propeller is believed to have struck a submerged object as she neared Winter Quarter shoal. On Wednesday the steamer Apach, of the same line, summoned by wireless telegraph, came to her assistance, and twice attempted to tow the disabled steamer, but the hawser parted in a heavy sea and both steamers anchored. On the following day the steamer Iroquois took the Arapahoe in tow until met by the tug O. L. Hellenbeck off Barnegat last night, and the tug brought the Arapahoe into port.

MONEY RAINED FOR PEACE CAUSE

Second Dry of Re-Dedication Ceremonies at Carnegie Institute at Pittsburg.

ENTHUSIASM OVER PEACE

W. T. Stead, of London, Proposed to Raise $100,000 for Pilgrimage to The Hague Conference—Emperor William's Present.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Pittsburg, April 12.—At the close of an address by William T. Stead, editor of Review of Reviews, London, England, at the re-dedication ceremonies of the Carnegie Institute of Pittsburg, late today, in which the speaker announced a plan to raise $100,000 necessary to conduct the pilgrimage from all countries to The Hague Conference, advocated in a recent New York address, unbounded enthusiasf took possession of the large audience and money was thrown to the floor of the stage.

Probably never has a public speaker been given such an ovation in this city. The lightning-like rapidity with which Mr. Stead's plans to finance the pilgrimage began almost took the breath of the distinguished foreign and American guests attending the meeting.

Mr. Stead, after explaining the purpose of the pilgrimage to the next Hague Conference, estimated that it would take at least $100,000 to finance the proposition. To raise this sum he proposed that every boy and girl in colleges and universities throughout the United States donate 50 cents toward the fund needed. He said the lesson furnishe to Europe by such a movement would be an influential factor in the quest of international peace.

The suggestion came at the end of his address, and he sat down amid loud applause. For fully five minutes the clapping and cheering was prolonged and finally the speaker again aorse and said that probably the audience would like to contribute to the fund.

Immediately a shower of silver money landed on the stage, coming from all parts of the hall.

Among the invited guests on the stage were many presidents of universities and colleges and at the close of the meeting the following institutions, through their heads, decided to contribute to the fund:

Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa., Dr. Johnston, president.

It is said tonight that other colleges will announce their intention to contribute shortly. The Pittsburg branch of the National Peace Society has taken up the matter and the Grand Army Posts have presented Mr. Stead with a resolution of peace.

The banquet given by the Board of Trustees of the Carnegie Institute in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, the founder, was held tonight at the Hotel Schenley. Mr. Carnegie made his appearance at this function after being absent all day, due, it was stated, from fatigue occasioned by yesterday's ceremonies.

The banquet was the most brilliant ever held in the city. All the foreign and American guests attended.

The exercises today were slightly hadicapped by inclement weather. Three large chests of books were presented to the institute by Emperor William through his personal representative, Lieutenant General Alfred F. J. L. Von Loewenfeld. The books are handsomely bound and treat of the German Empire and army.

Many messages were received today from all parts of the world congratulating Mr. Carnegie and Pittsburg in possessing the great institute.

Among the speakers today were Sir William H. Preece, London; Ernst von Ihne, Berlin; Sir Robert S. Bal, London; Lieutenant General Von Loewenfeld, Berlin, and Leonce Benedite, Paris.

Tomorrow the Western University of Pennsylvania will confer honorary degrees on the foreign and American guests and in the afternoon the party will go by boat to the mill district of the city, where they will be given an opportunity to see the great steel mills in operation.

THAW JURORS MADE MISTRIAL

Seven Were For Murder in First Degree and Five For Acquittal.

TIED UP OVER 47 HOURS

Thaw Family Received Report of Jury in Silence—Jerome Will Resist Movement for Bail.—Delmas' Next Step.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, April 12.—Hopelessly divided—seven for a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree and five for acquittal on the ground of insanity—the jury which since the 23d of last January had been trying Harry K. Thaw, reported today, after 47 hours and 8 minutes of deliberation, that it could not possibly agree upon a verdict. The twelve men were promptly discharged by Justice Fitzgerald, who declared that he, too, believed their task was hopeless. Thaw was remanded to the Tombs without bail to await a second trial on the charge of having murdered Stanford White, the noted architect.

When this new trial would take place no one connected with the case could tonight express an opinion. District Attorney Jerome declared that there were many other persons accused of homicide awaiting trial, and Thaw would have to take his turn with the rest. As to a possible change of venue, both the District Attorney and counsel for Thaw declared they would make no such move.

Thaw's attorneys will have a conference tomorrow with the prisoner, to decide upon their next step. They may make an early application for bail. Mr. Jerome said he would strenuously oppose it.

He added the belief that as seven of the jurors had voted for "guilty," his opposition probably would be successful. In that event Thaw has another long Summer before him in the city prison, for his case on the already crowded criminal calendar cannot possibly be reached until some time next Fall.

The scenes attending the announcement by the jury of its inability to agree upon any sort of verdict were robbed of any theatricalism by the general belief that after their long deliberation and the reports of a wide division of sentiment, the jurors could make no other report than one of disagreement.

Thaw, surrounded by the members of his family—the devoted aged mother, the pale young wife, the titled sister, the Countess of Yarmouth; Mrs. George Carnegie, and Edward and Josiah Thaw, the brothers—received the news in absolute silence. When it became known that the jury was about to make its report and that the case would be disposed of, Thaw called his wife to a seat by his side and sat with his right arm thrown about her until he was commanded to stand and face the jurors. Smiling and confident as he entered the court room, he sank limply into his chair when Foreman Deming B. Smith, in response to a question by Clerk Penny as to whether a verdict had been agreed upon, said:

"We have not."

The mother, her features hidden behind a dense veil of black, sat stolid and motionless. In ill health of late, she had felt severely the strain and stress of the long hours of anxious waiting. The wife, by her husband's side, gripped his hand tightly as the jury foreman spoke, and then when he sank down by her side, she tried to cheer him as best she could by saying that she believed he would now be admitted to bail and that a second jury would surely set him free. The mother, the sisters and the brothers, pale and well nigh exhausted by their tedious, nerve racking wait for a verdict, smiled wanly at Thaw as he was led away again to the Tombs. They were permitted to speak with him for a few moments to bid him be of good cheer, before he crossed the "bridge of sighs" to the cell in the prison which until a few minutes before he had hoped that he was about to quit forever.

Outside the big square of the criminal courts building only a few hundred persons were gathered. Thousands had been there earlier, but police reinforcements had arrived with instructions to keep every one moving and this had soon tired the idly curious into a willingness to depart. Inside the building—in the gallery and overlooking the court and gathered along the corridors—were groups of more fortunate persons, who had been able to make their way past the vigilant police guards. The court room itself was half empty. Only the newspaper men, the court attaches and a few favored friends, were allowed to enter to hear the verdict. Justice Fitzgerald feared a demonstration of some sort should the general public be admitted, and he gave strict orders against this.

It was 4:25 o'clock when the jury filed into the court room. Harry Thaw had been waiting for the summons to face the jurors ever since shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. He felt that today would bring a crisis and that either a verdict would be reached or Justice Fitzgerald would discharge the jurors from any further consideration of the case. This was the general belief and the only remarkable feature of the case was the dogged manner in which the jurors continued at their task and declined to ask to be excused. Justice Fitzgerald had determined to let them fight it out among themselves until they should call for assistance. This appeal came at 4:15 o'clock, and then followed a hunt for counsel. Both District Attorney Jerome and the attorneys for the defendant had temporarily left the building. When they arrived Justice Fitzgerald notified them of the jury's communication that a disagreement seemed inevitable. Every one connected with the case seemed willing to accept the situation as offering no hope and then followed the brief court room proceedings at which the disagreement was publicly announced, the jury dismissed and the prisoner remanded.

Thaw, when he returned to the Tombs prepared and gave out the following statement:

"I believe that every man in the jury possessing average intelligence, excepting possibly Mr. Bolton, comprehend the weight of evidence and balanced it for acquittal. All my family bid me good bye with courage. I trust, d. v., we may all keep well."

To his attorneys Thaw said he was deeply disappointed.

"But I could hardly expect anything else in view of the events of the past few days," he added.

Earlier in the day Thaw had given out another statement in which he said he had desired that his fate should be judged upon the "written laws of the State of New York." He declared that the evidence adduced had convinced even District Attorney Jerome of his innocence under the strict letter of the law.

Attorney Delphin M. Delmas, who conducted Thaw's case in court, and who in making his summing up address to the jury appealed almost directly to the "unwritten" law, or "dementia Americana," as he termed it, was not in court today when the jury made its report and was discharged.

Tonight Clifford W. Hartridge, the attorney of record and warm personal friend of Thaw, gave the following statement to The Associated Press:

"Mr. Thaw has already expressed himself desirous of a trial under and in accordance with the laws of the State of New York. I can add nothing to that except to say that I entirely agree with him and hope that we shall have a new trial speedily, and that the next time it will not be necessary for the presiding judge to have to charge the jury that we are living in a civilized community."

Mrs. Evelyn Thaw said:

"I can't understand it. I don't see why they couldn't have come to some agreement."

A reporter said to Mrs. Thaw: "The jury stood seven to five for conviction."

"I don't believe," she cried emphatically.

"They ought to have acquitted him on the evidence."

Mrs. William Thaw, mother of the prisoner, declined to say anything for publication at this time.

The story of the proceeding in the juryroom, as they were learned tonight, far outranked in interest the brief court proceedings which brought the famous trial to a close. It developed that the jury had considered everything connected with the case, except "the unwritten law." Basing their judgment entirely upon the evidence they voted either for or against murder in the first degree. When they cast their first ballots.

The first vote was 8 to 4 in favor of conviction. Then the jury tried to reach a common ground upon a verdict of manslaughter in the first degree, the punishment for which ranges to a maximum of 20 years imprisonment. The men in favor of acquittal, largely on the ground of insanity, it is said, would not change their ballots and in the end won over to their side one of the eight who favored conviction. During the nearly 48 hours deliberation only eight ballots were cast. The final ballot, taken just before the jury reported its disagreement in court was as follows:

For conviction of murder in the first degree: Messrs. Deming B. Smith, foreman; George Pfaff, No. 2., Charles H. Fecke, No. 3; Harry C. Brearly, No. 6; Charles D. Newton, No. 8; Joseph B. Bolton, No. 11, and Barnard Gerstman, No. 12.

For acquittal on the ground of insany: Messrs. Oscar A. Pink, No. 4; Henry C. Barney, No. 5; Malcom S. Frazer, No. 7; Wilbur F. Steele, No. 9, and John S. Denee, No. 10.

The session of the jury were not at altogether pleasant and peaceful. There were many stormy arguments, and at one time charges of inconsistency and breaking faith with the orders of the court were made, but at no point of the deliberations did the foreman lose control of the situation. He successfully held the 12 in check and was the first to suggest, when it was seen that there was no possibility of a verdict being reached, that they report the matter to Justice Fitzgerald and leave the further disposition of the case to his judgment.

Wilbur F. Steele, juror No. 9, said:

"We considered insanity in many phases, but did not give the subject of wronged womanhood any lengthy debate; in fact, scarcely any. The question which was considered at unusual length was whether Thaw was insane at the moment he shot Stanford White and whether at that moment he was responsible for his actions.

Juror Joseph Bolton said:

"There was no question of the unwritten law or of 'dementia Americana' in our deliberations. We considered the case from a purely legal standpoint. We were not swayed by emotion."

"The jury, when considering the case, took no stock in 'brain storms,'" said Juror George Fecke. "We did not pay an undue amount of attention to the testimony of alienists either." Mr. Fecke added: "It was after Mr. Denee had read some of Thaw's letters that the latter decided that there was a reasonable doubt as to Thaw's sanity. Denee then joined the four men who stood for acquittal on the grounds of insanity."

WALL PAPER DEPARTMENT

It Costs infinitely less to have your walls and ceiling covered with handsome, artistic and harmonious paper than it does to have them painted, frescoed, tinted or treated in any other way. The kind of Wall Paper that we here allude to are to be had of us for less money than elsewhere.

Price per roll, 8, 10, 15, 20, 25 and 35 cents. Samples of high paper are shown in books. Let us figure with you.

OUR MILLINERY DEPARTMENT

has turned out more hats this season than any season since we opened the department. Tomorrow we will open the new creations, that have just come out. No one will show you newer styles than ourselves. A Drummer's Sample line to dispose of—be among the first to get the pick. We do not duplicate or trim all our hats alike. Our trimmers are artists. No doubt you are aware of it.

DRESS GOODS, BLACK AND COLORED

Our Dress Goods business so far this season is more than double of last year's sales for the corresponding period. What greater tribute can the ladies of Wilmington pay to this favorite department of the Polvogt Store. See the display of our 50c goods. Full assortment of Black Voiles, Panamas and Fancy Suitings.
